

Service activation

You need to first activate the service at UIBdigital in order to be able to configure the Wi-Fi on your device.

Configuration

In order to configure the Wi-Fi service, you need to click the configuration link from your device and follow the steps shown. The system will provide the necessary configurator for your operating system and the version of your device:

- Wi-Fi Configuration

For devices that are not supported by the link above, manual configuration is required by following the instructions below:

- Android 4.2 or lower

If you want to configure your device manually without using the configurators above, you will find the necessary information in the following link: Manual Configuration.

For further information, please check the wireless network \(Wi-Fi\) service page.